

Meet Syrian Women in Damascus

Here is a list of places where one might have met Syrian women in more stable times:

- Cafes and restaurants: Syrian women often gather at cafes and restaurants to socialize with friends and family.
- Universities: Syria has a high literacy rate, and many women pursue higher education at universities.
- Souks (markets): The vibrant markets in Syria are a hub of activity and a great place to meet locals, including women who run their own businesses.
- Cultural events: Syria has a rich history and culture, and attending events such as concerts, festivals, and exhibitions can provide opportunities to meet Syrian women who share similar interests.
- Public parks: Parks are popular gathering spots for families, friends, and couples in Syria, making them a potential place to meet Syrian women.